

4 July 2007

Sodexho goes public with Shrewsbury and Atcham council contract win

Sodexho, a leading facilities management services provider, has announced the signing of a two-year public buildings fabric maintenance contract with Shrewsbury and Atcham borough council, looking after many of the borough's public buildings, including a number of listed sites.

In a contract worth over £250,000 per annum, Sodexho will be providing maintenance services for buildings including, Shrewsbury Castle & The Shropshire Regimental Museum; the Music hall, a grade two star listed building; the Abbey Foregate Refectory pall pit, grade two listed, and the old market hall, grade one listed scheduled ancient monument, as well as over 200 public buildings including leisure centres, museums, and council offices.

Sodexho employs a variety of appropriately skilled and qualified operatives local to the area, backed up by larger teams operating in the West Midlands. Vehicles operating satellite tracking technology are also used to help manage job allocation, scheduling and emergency response.

Leigh Naylor, Sodexho business development manager, said: "We are delighted to have won this contract with Shrewsbury and Atcham, which will further strengthen our presence in this region. We look forward to working in partnership with the Local Authority to deliver a high quality, cost effective service."

Angela Douglas, Shrewsbury and Atcham Borough Council's asset manager, said "I am very pleased with the high level of customer service that is being provided. We are looking forward to working with Sodexho to continue provide a pro-active and reliable maintenance service that is excellent value."

Ends