

PRESS RELEASE

Mike Stephens joins Sodexo's integrator team

8 February 2018

Sodexo, the world's largest services company, has appointed Mike Stephens as its director of business analysis within its Government Services Integrator team.

Mike joins Sodexo from CDS UK, where he was account manager for the electronic Property Information Mapping Service (e-PIMS). In his role at CDS UK Mike specialised in the development of strategic products for the built environment, property and construction sectors delivering cost reduction, value optimisation, risk mitigation and performance improvements.

In his new role at Sodexo he will lead a team of specialist property analysts and economists as part of Sodexo's integrated property management offer which is being led by managing director, Dan Weiss.

Mike Stephens, director of business analysis, Government Services – Integrator, Sodexo UK & Ireland said, "I'm delighted to be joining this new team at Sodexo. I am looking forward to working with former and new colleagues to drive real value for our clients through digital transformation and the use of data to inform future strategy."

Mark Seastron, CEO, Defence and Government Services Sodexo UK & Ireland adds, "The integrator model is market leading and the way forward for asset and estates management. It enables our customers with large, geographically dispersed property portfolios to focus on running their business whilst we concentrate on assisting them manage their estate."

"We are thrilled to have Mike join our Integrator team, he brings with him a wealth of experience which will undoubtedly be invaluable in helping us developing our presence in the integrated property management sector."
